

Telford Methodist Circuit Newsletter

20th August 2026

Dawley Christian Centre has been busy making a 1,000 paper cranes which are now on display in the foyer. Paper cranes are traditional origami figures symbolizing peace, hope, and longevity, often folded individually or in groups of one thousand for wishes or healing.

In Japanese folklore, it's alleged that a person can be granted one wish if they fold 1,000 origami cranes. The paper bird later became a symbol of hope and healing during challenging times, and the folding of 1,000 paper cranes was popularized with the story of a young girl named Sadako Sasaki.

When Sadako Sasaki was two years old, she was exposed to radiation from the atomic bomb that devastated Hiroshima in 1945. By the time she was 12, the radiation exposure had developed into leukaemia, and she was given just one year to live. The young girl began making 1,000 paper cranes in the hopes of being granted her wish to recover from her illness. However, as time went on and her collection of origami cranes grew, her goal changed.

Sasaki decided to wish for world peace instead of her own life. As her condition worsened, she never stopped making paper cranes and her classmates even joined in to help her. After she passed away, she was buried with a wreath of 1,000 paper cranes, and she became a symbol of peace and love. Sasaki is now forever memorialized at Hiroshima Peace Park, where a statue of her holding a giant crane - called the Children's Peace Monument.

Every year, thousands of people flock to the Children's Peace Monument, where they drape wreaths of 1,000 cranes. And the origami crane continues to embody Sasaki's selfless wish for world healing, more than 70 years later.

When our minister Rev Nik attended the Methodist conference this year she saw the 1,000 cranes display and thought wouldn't that be a good idea at Dawley! We had plenty of help and we managed to do all 1,000 cranes in just 3 weeks. It looks so bright and beautiful.. Hopefully one day you'll be able to come to Dawley and take a look!

Learning and Caring

We know that alongside Worship, Serving and Evangelism we are also called to Learn and Care. Climate change is now making itself impossible to ignore with ruined crops, wildfires, heatwaves and floods on everyone's lips... so how should we engage with this situation as Christians? Firstly we need the facts and that is why I feel so passionate about us all engaging with the People's Emergency Briefing.

What is it?

In November 2025, top climate scientists met in Westminster to brief politicians, community and faith leaders. The facts presented were urgent, shocking and relevant to us all but not without hope. A film was collated using clips from the briefing presented by Chris Packham, designed to be shown and debated in communities across the nation (The People's Emergency Briefing). You can find out more here.

Where can I see it?

- Ketley Community Centre on 20th August at 6pm
- Church and Chetwynd Aston Village Hall, Newport on 4th Sept at 7pm.
- Ditton Priors Village Hall on 29th Sept at 6:30pm
- Beckbury Village Hall, TF11 9DG on 15th Oct at 7pm.

Why not invite a friend to watch the film with you?

What can I do?

- Inform yourself: attend a screening
- Talk about it. Make sure your friends and family know.
- Host a screening to engage with your local community. Information here.
- Pray
- Sign a petition asking the government for national televised briefings here.

Prayer

Lord God, our desire is that we might hand over a healthy, productive world to our children and future generations. Enable us to play our part in the way we live our lives and encourage others to engage in the long-term stewardship of a world that has been sadly neglected.

For the sake of all creation, we pray.

Prayer by John Birch, 2020, Faith and Worship

Circuit Service on 6th September 2026
at Wellington Methodist Church
At 10.15am

To celebrate the launch of our new way of being a Circuit.

On Sunday 6th September 2026 we shall be holding a Circuit Service at Wellington Methodist Church, commencing at 10.15am. This is to launch our new way of being a Circuit, to induct new staff and acknowledge the continued ministries of those who have been working amongst us for some time.

There will be a parallel provision for children and young people which will be organised by our Circuit Youth Children and Families worker.

As this is a Circuit service we are hoping that everyone across the Circuit will be there, so please note there will be no other planned services that day.

We look forward to seeing you there!

Dear friends

We are having a Circuit Service at 10.15am on Sunday 6th September 2026 at Wellington Methodist Church to launch our new way of working and induct new staff.

Do you play a musical instrument or are you a singer?

If so, would you like to bring your instrument (or your voice) along so that we can put together a scratch music group and scratch choir? If this is something that you fancy doing, then please send me an email to let me know you are coming and what instrument you are bringing.

Email to: adrian.burdon@btinternet.com

Let us make a joyful noise to the Lord!

"I often wonder where my life would be right now if I made different decisions, and one of those thoughts is, where would I be right now if I never applied for the role of Youth President? Would I still be at university? Would I have a job elsewhere? Would I even still be a Christian? I do not know. All I do know is that this year has shaped me into a person who is full of joy and wonder, someone who's passion has constantly grown for children and youth over the past year. I have grown in my leadership skills, public speaking, time management and, most importantly, my faith has grown beyond anything I could have imagined."

Churches coming together to watch the partial solar eclipse.

“We felt like it would get people together but we had no idea it would be as big as this!” - The Revd Matt Lunn, Muswell Hill.

Communities across the Connexion gathered together yesterday in church gardens and car parks, by the sea and in fields to witness something awe inspiring - a moment of wonder as we experienced the solar eclipse

Thank you to everyone who held and supported events across the Connexion, and for all the photos and reflections you have shared with us! Bridgnorth to host fascinating Shroud of Turin exhibition

A remarkable and thought-provoking exhibition is coming to Bridgnorth this autumn, as St Leonard's Church prepares to host a full-size replica of the Shroud of Turin — along with a wealth of display panels exploring one of the Christian world's most intriguing relics.

The exhibition will run from Monday 26 October to Thursday 12 November, and will be open daily from 11am to 4pm. Admission is free. Visitors will be able to view the 14-foot-long replica of the Shroud (the original is held in Turin Cathedral), read the supporting information panels and, for those who wish, spend time reflecting on the mystery of this extraordinary cloth.

The touring exhibition has been brought to the town by two local men, Mike Shaw and Alan Muscat, both of whom attend local churches and share a long-standing interest in the Shroud. Their aim is to invite people to look, listen and reflect on a subject that has fascinated believers and sceptics for generations.

Mike, a former solicitor now in his early 80s, has been interested in the Shroud for many years. Recently, however, his enthusiasm has grown even stronger as new research has emerged, casting fresh doubt on the previous medieval dating of the cloth. The renewed debate has only deepened his sense that the Shroud deserves serious attention.

Mike has been the driving force behind bringing the exhibition to Bridgnorth, though he is the first to admit that he needed help on the technical and publicity skills required to make the project happen. For those he turned to his close friend Alan Muscat — a graphic and web design professional based in the town — knowing that Alan shared his interest in the Shroud and could help bring the idea to life.

Together, the two men have put their energy into bringing an exhibition that is accessible, engaging and suitable for visitors of all backgrounds. For them, the story of the Shroud is not just about history or archaeology, but about something far more arresting: the possibility that the cloth may bear the image of Jesus himself.

It is this possibility that continues to give the Shroud such power. For believers, it can be a source of faith and reflection. For those still exploring the Christian faith, it may offer a striking and unexpected point of entry. And for others, it remains a deeply curious historical artefact that refuses to be easily explained.

At the heart of the fascination is the image itself. The Shroud appears to bear the image of a man who has suffered injuries consistent with crucifixion, but what makes it even more extraordinary is the fact that the image is essentially a photographic negative, the first ever 'selfie'. That, in itself, is part of the mystery. Visitors will be shown how to use their mobile phones in negative mode to view the Shroud image as a positive photograph. This simple technique helps reveal the image more clearly. It is a small but memorable detail that is likely to stay with visitors long after they leave the church.

Science has not found an answer to how the image came to be there. No known physical or chemical process has been able to explain the transfer of such an image onto the linen. Despite decades of study, the origin of the image remains a mystery.

For Mike and Alan, that is part of the appeal. They are not claiming to the answers. Instead, they are offering the people of the Bridgnorth area the chance to encounter something unusual, visually striking and deeply thought-provoking. In a world where so much seems instantly explainable, the Shroud stands apart as something that still resists easy interpretation.

As local churchgoers, both men also believe the exhibition has a spiritual dimension. While neither sees the Shroud as something necessary for faith in Jesus, both feel that it can strengthen belief for those who have faith and inspire belief for those who are exploring. If nothing else, they say, the possibility that the cloth may preserve the image of Jesus of Nazareth is too awe-inspiring not to share with others.

The exhibition runs at St Leonard's Church, Bridgnorth, from Monday 26 October to Thursday 12 November, daily from 11am to 4pm, with free admission. Pam Moon, a researcher, author and educator associated with the British Society for the Turin Shroud, will open the exhibition with a talk at 7pm on Sunday 25 October, covering the history, science and latest developments surrounding the Shroud.

Further information and booking details for the pre-opening talk are available at www.turinshroudbridgnorth.co.uk

Are you involved with organising, planning, or leading worship?

Join 1 or all of our Zoom training sessions on 'Working out Worship' – each session focuses on each element of worship, key aspects in facilitating worship, and a variety of styles and approaches to leading worship. You can attend as an individual or as a group with other stewards, worship leaders, preachers or contributors to your worship context.

Local Arrangements

Ever found yourself having to arrange a service locally and wondering what to do? You're not alone! Planning for local arrangements doesn't have to be scary – in these training sessions we'll look at the simple steps of planning a service, different aspects and approaches to worship you might want to keep in mind, signpost you to some fantastic resources and think about planning ahead.

Creative Worship

What does it mean to be 'creative' in worship? Is creativity a style of worship or something we should aim to incorporate into every part of worship? Ever found yourself saying "I'm not very creative", or "I wish our services had more creativity?"

Whether you can't get enough of creativity or find yourself intimidated by it, this training session is for you!

Intergenerational Worship

What does it mean to be truly 'intergenerational' in worship? How do we integrate different styles, approaches, and levels to ensure that we are engaging and meeting the needs of all ages?

Whether you have lots of children or young people in your congregation or not, this session is for you! In this session, we will explore what it looks like to be an intergenerational church, what it looks like to worship intergenerationally, signpost to some resources and look at how we can be inclusive and engaging in all that we do.

Methodist Safeguarding Training: Which safeguarding training am I required to attend?

The safeguarding training offered by the Methodist Church includes the Foundation and Advanced Modules. Please see the document below for details of who needs to attend which level of training.

What level of safeguarding training is needed - May 2026

Safeguarding training must be renewed every four years: this only applies to the highest level of safeguarding training required. Everyone must attend Foundation Module once. However, for roles that then require completion of the Advanced Module, this must be completed within 6 months of starting in the applicable role. Renewing training will then only be at the higher, Advanced Module, level until the individual is no longer in an applicable role, when training requirements will be reviewed.

Further details for participants about each module and the ways training can be accessed are included on the participants webpage for each course below.

Foundation Module Training

Foundation Module 2024 Edition \(participants\) - The Methodist Church

The Foundation Module can be accessed either in an in-person setting, in a group on Zoom or by online self-study via MCBX. It is recommended anyone who is completing the course for the first time should attend an in-person course, as some items may trigger difficult memories.

Safeguarding Training – Now Available Online

The Safeguarding Foundation Course is now available online via MCBX, making it easier than ever for church members to complete their safeguarding training.

This flexible option is ideal for those who find it difficult to attend face-to-face sessions, as the course can be completed at your own pace. MCBX (mcb.theologyx.com) is the Methodist Church's online learning platform, providing access to safeguarding training, supporting materials, and a downloadable certificate on completion.

This online course complements, rather than replaces, face-to-face and participatory training, which continue to be an important part of safeguarding learning.

If you need to complete the Safeguarding Foundation Course, please speak to your Church Safeguarding Officer for further guidance.

Safeguarding is everyone's responsibility, and clear communication is key to keeping our community in the Telford Methodist Circuit safe and supported.

A new Safeguarding Reporting Form is now in use across the Circuit. Copies have already been shared with your Church Safeguarding Officers (CSOs) and should shortly be appearing on the Circuit website and your church safeguarding noticeboards.

If you don't see a copy, or if you have a safeguarding concern, please notify your designated CSO as soon as possible. If your church does not have a CSO appointed, you can contact:

Lauren Baxendale, Circuit Safeguarding Officer safeguarding@telfordmeth.org.uk | 07904 814741

Stephanie Bradley, Regional Officer for Safeguarding bradleys@methodistchurch.org.uk | 07817 808557

By reporting concerns promptly using the new safeguarding reporting form, you help ensure that issues are recorded appropriately, responded to quickly, and escalated where necessary.

Thank you for helping us maintain safe and welcoming places for all.
